DETAILED ACTIONContinued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/16/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claims 1-3 and 13 (as best understood) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Cunningham et al. (6,062,289) in view of anyone of Schmidt, du Quesne, Feldmann et al., or Wuesthoff.

Cunningham et al. meets all of the limitations of claim 1 (as best understood), i.e., a plate with a series of equidistant radial slots in each of which a clamping jaw (10) is received and slides to grip the edge of a wheel rim, said clamping jaws being linked together in such a manner as to be always equidistant from the axis of said plate, at least one clamping jaw being associated with actuator means (Fig. 1) causing it to translate in a radial direction, and further comprising between said at least one clamping jaw and said actuator means there a positioner device (21, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 25) arranged to vary the working position of said at least one clamping jaw without modifying the travel stroke, except that it is silent regarding the actuation of jaws.

Moving the jaws in unison and/or "self-centering jaws" are known in the art as evident by Schmidt, du Quesne, Feldmann et al., or Wuesthoff, which define a linking means. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the invention of Cunningham et al. with "self-centering" jaws as taught by anyone of Schmidt, du Quesne, Feldmann et al., or Wuesthoff to enhance the operation.

Regarding claims 2, 3 and 13, Cunningham et al. as modified above meets the limitations, i.e., the cylinder piston actuation means being connected to two jaws each having a positioner device (Fig. 1).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: a positioner device having the structures recited, i.e., crankshaft with a crank and a crankpin received in a bushing rigid with the jaw and with the crank being connected to the actuator means for locking the crankshaft in the different position as defined by the specification and recited in claim 4, places these claims in condition for allowance over prior art of record.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 and 13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
